SCHOOL SYNERGY

WORKSHOP SERIES

CHILDHOOD, PLAY AND RHYTHM

The School Synergy workshop series attempts to build synergy among educators working in university and schools by providing hands-on opportunities to exchange ideas and practices about resources and pedagogy useful for teaching.

In this session, we will be looking at playfulness and rhythm to investigate and observe how patterns of behaviour, enactments, gestures, placement, order, ecology and visualisation have a role in the everyday experiences that shapes a child's way of understanding the world/universe.

ROSHAN SAHI

Roshan Sahi has worked in diverse organisations for developing Art Education pedagogy with students (both young and adults) from underprivileged backgrounds as well as those with special needs. He has conducted art workshops in Indian and International organisations and has collaborated as an art consultant/facilitator in various initiatives like the Inter-disciplinary Design lab (Bangaluru), the District Quality Education programme at RIE Mysuru. He has also collaborated with Jane Sahi to compile an Art in Education Handbook for Primary School Teachers..
